Bill Will Be Taken Up In

ELIMINATE PROVISION

House Eliminates Provision for a Bond Issue of $35,000,- 000 to Finance Road

OTHER NEWS OF WASHINGTON

WASHINGTON, Feb. 18.—The administration Alaska railroad bill authorizing the President to construct a $35,000,000 railroad from Alaska's coast to its great coal fields, was passed by the house late today by a vote of 230 to 87.

A similar measure already has passed the senate and the bill will be taken up at once in conference between the two houses, with a view to sending the measure quickly to the President who has signified his intention of signing it.

At the eleventh hour, after a sharp parliamentary skirmish, the house eliminated from the bill, as reported by the territories committee, a provision authorizing a bond issue of $35,000,000 to finance the railroad and to be paid off by the proceeds of government land sales in Alaska. The senate bill provided for a $40,000,000 bond issue.

Representative Fitzgerald of New York led a fight which resulted in striking out the entire bond provision from the bill. Under the amended measure the project would be financed out of the current funds in the treasury, the President being limited to $25,000,000 and $1,000,000 being appropriated for immediate expenses. Congress would appropriate each year the amount estimated to be necessary for the construction of the road.

The bill provides for the construction of a road "not to exceed 1,000 miles to be so located so as to connect one or more of the open Pacific ocean harbors on the southern coast of Alaska with the navigable waters in the interior of Alaska and with a coal field or fields yielding coal sufficient in quantity and quality for naval use, so as to best aid in the development of the agricultural and mineral or other resources of Alaska."

An effort was made by the opponents of the bill, led by Representative Davenport of Oklahoma, to postpone the final vote on the measure until next Wednesday, but it was defeated.

Will Be Reported Today.

The annual urgent deficiency appropriation bill carrying many millions of dollars to provide for emergency needs in various departments including the Panama canal administration work and the postal service will be reported tomorrow by the house committee on appropriations. The pension appropriation bill will follow the passage of this measure.

Will Consider Information.

The federal reserve bank organization committee back in Washington after a five weeks' trip through the country in a statement issued tonight announced that its selection of federal reserve cities and definition of federal reserve districts would not be made until careful consideration had been given to the information accumulated on the trip.

The statement said the committee Secretaries McAdoo and Houston, found the country prosperous and learned that bankers and business men are greatly interested in the new banking system and confident of its success. In a supplemental statement Mr. McAdoo said he hoped the new system would be established in time to take care of crop moving contingencies next year, but that if it were not the treasury department would stand ready to place its funds again at the disposal of business men.

No Protest Against Increase.

One of the few representatives of shippers to appear before the interstate commerce commission with no protest against the proposed 5 per cent freight advance which the Eastern railroads desire to make, presented himself today when paper and pulp freight rates were under discussion. He was James L. O'Brien, representing paper companies in Sault Ste. Marie and Sturgeon Falls, Ontario, and Chillicothe, Ohio. These shippers, Mr. O'Brien said, did not desire to protest against increases and were willing to abide by the judgment of the commission on the question of the railroads' need of more revenue.

FEELING IS HIGH AGAINST NEW SECT

SPRINGS HOLINESS CHURCH AT
NEWTON IS BURNED TO GROUND

Mob Which Failed to Capture "Holy Rollers" in Court are Thought to be Responsible for Burning of Church—Five Are Convicted of Beating Boys.

NEWTON, Ills., Feb. 18.—The burning of the Springs Holiness church, the wholesale arrest of its members and the conviction of five more persons were today's developments in the court action and mob action against a religious band known as "Holy Rollers" near here. The trial is the outgrowth of a special service at the Spring church a week ago, at which it is alleged two little boys were tied hand and foot and after a vote of the congregation were beaten with sticks and leather straps till their backs bled. The "rollers" it is charged, took this means of driving "sin and the devil" out of the boys. The little fellows, 9 and 12 years old, on the witness stand said the sin with which they were charged was failure to attend church regularly.

The church of the recently organized sect was found burned to the ground early this morning. It is presumed the mob which yesterday was frustrated in its efforts to lynch the pastor of the church and three others charged with the attack on the boys is responsible for the fire.

Mrs. Rosa Deck, Frank Emery and his wife; Allen Lyons and Harold Cummins were today found guilty of being accessories to the attack on the boys. Each of the first three were fined $85 and costs and the two latter $65 and costs each.

Prefer to Remain in Jail.

Mrs. Emma VanTreese, aunt of Cameron and Raymond Richardson, the boys who were beaten and Frank Camerno Cummins, uncle of the boys were fined $100 each yesterday together with Rev. David Lyons, pastor of the church, on charges of assault in connection with the attack on the boys. They are still in jail, preferring to remain there until the feeling against them subsides. The Cummins and VanTreese are wealthy land owners. Mrs. VanTreese is the teacher of the small group which forms the Holiness church here.

SPARKS FROM THE WIRE

SPRINGFIELD, Ills., Feb. 18.—Following rain today and milder weather, a snow storm struck Springfield tonight, the heavy wet snow seriously impeding traffic.

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn., Feb. 18.—Two persons were killed, six probably fatally injured and twenty five others hurt here tonight when an outboard street car was crushed between two heavy traction cars. The accident was caused by slippery rails.

ST. LOUIS, Mo., Feb. 18.—Rain which had been falling all day throughout the eastern half of Missouri tonight turned into sleet with a sudden drop in temperature. A foot of snow left by the blizzard of last week was washed away by the rain only to be replaced in most places by an inch or more of ice. Telephone and telegraph companies suffered greatly.

that the protest of his clients was not against the proposed increase as such, but against the relative adjustment of rates which gave shippers of paper and pulp in other sections of the country advantage over those in his territory.

To Dismiss Federal Regulation.

Members of the interstate commerce commission will appear tomorrow before the house committee on interstate commerce to discuss the advisability of legislation for federal regulation of railroad securities. Their appearance will mark the beginning of hearings on this phase of the administration's anti-trust program, no tentative bill on this subject as suggested by the President having yet been prepared by congressional leaders.

While members of the committee were preparing to take up this phase of the work the judiciary committee today listened to a plea from Miss Christina Frederick of Philadelphia for fixed prices to standardize household goods and for legislation which would eliminate perils to womanhood of the nation in mad rushes at bargain counters, under the "lure" of the retailers to fill their stores with patrons.

Representing the Housewives' League of America, Miss Frederick aroused intense interest when she arraigned the "folly of women who spend half a day, 6,000 calories of energy and 10 cents in carfare to run down town to take advantage of a cut price a 25-cent tooth brush selling for 19 cents."

Pension Bill Is Passed.

A bill to authorize pensions of $12 a month for widows and $2 a month for children of dead Spanish war veterans was favorably reported today by the house pensions committee. Widows or children with incomes of $250 a year or more would not be eligible to receive the pensions.

STRIKERS TELL OF ALLEGED ASSAULTS BY SHERIFF'S MEN

Copper Miners Describe
Other Unlawful Acts Alleged to Have Happened

ACT WITHOUT THE LAW

Deputies In Copper Country Are Said by Witnesses to Have Acted Without Legal Authority

CONTINUE TRINIDAD HEARING

HANCOCK, Mich., Feb. 18.—Assaults alleged to have been made on strikers by deputy sheriffs and other unlawful acts resulting from the copper mine workers strike, were described before the congressional investigation committee today after Chairman E. T. Taylor of Colorado had ruled that the committee was vested with authority to inquire into the administration of justice.

O. N. Hilton of counsel for the strikers argued that under the constitution and laws of the United States and this state, citizens were secure from unreasonable searches and seizures but that in the copper country deputies had broken down doors, had opened trunks and had stolen property "without a shadow of legal authority."

The chairman said the strikers had a right to try to prove that such conditions existed. Representative Switzer reiterated his belief that the committee pursue the inquiry along the lines of the house resolution and should not open the doors to every thing that two sides to the controversy should offer.

Peter Martineau testified that he was severely beaten by deputies in the branch office of the sheriff at Quincy mine on Dec. 10th, last. He said Sheriff Cruse was present and stopped the beating by saying: "That's good enough."

Arrested as Suspect.

Afterwards he was kept in jail for thirty days. Under cross-examination the witness admitted he knew that some of the deputies had been shot on Quincy Hill about the same hour he was arrested. Counsel for the sheriff told the committee Martineau had been arrested as a suspect in connection with the shooting. Witness denied that the sheriff had stopped beating as soon as he observed it.

Several witnesses told of having been searched for weapons by deputies and members of the "Citizens' Alliance" while the south end raid on Dec. 12th, was in progress. William Kausmito, a striker, said he was stopped by deputies on his way to South Range and was ordered to go home. When he went to the union store, instead, he said he was searched and hit over the head. He then was put in jail and kept there for an hour, he said, after which he was sent home.

Charles Makinen, another striker, said deputies raided his home at South Range on the night of Dec. 2nd, and got him out of bed and took him, handcuffed, to Houghton jail, where he was kept until four o'clock the next day. On his return he said he found a satchel broken open and a gold ring and chain were missing. On cross-examination witness said he thought the deputies stole the articles. He denied that he had violated any law.

Makinen was arrested as a suspect in connection with an encounter which several strikers had with deputy sheriffs in which the latter were fired on. Afterwards the deputies raided the Tuomoel, boarding house in which their assailants had taken refuge, it is said, and arrested fourteen men.

Makinen's story was corroborated by Mrs. Marie Hervela. She reached the house after the deputies had left and found everything in disorder, she said.

Mrs. Hervela, testified that deputies had fired into her house on two occasions. In November, she said, a bullet struck a window frame and frightened her children. A deputy fired at her home on December 8th, when the children were looking out of the window. On cross-examination the witness said she did not think the deputy fired at her children.

Make Tour of District.

Trinidad, Colo., Feb. 18.—The congressional committee which is investigating the coal strike made a tour of the district today accompanied by mine operators and labor leaders.

Joseph S. Meyers, investigator for the federal department of labor and Charles J. Stowell of the federal commission on industrial relations also were in the party. Among those the committee questioned was Mary Ludvik, one of the two women alleged to have been kidnapped by wives of strikers and held captive in the tent colony early in the strike. The committee returned to Trinidad tonight.

ACCUSES PRESIDENT OF INCONSISTENCY

SEN. BRISTOW TURNS SUFFRAGE
DEBATE TO PANAMA FREE TOLLS ACT

Asserts Wilson Told Suffragettes He Could Not Advocate Their Cause Because Party Had Not Expressed Itself While He Proposes That Congress Should Reverse Itself on Tolls Question Despite Fact That Democratic Party Has Endorsed Its Action.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 18.—Accusing President Wilson of inconsistency in his views of the binding effect of the Democratic platform and charging that "greed of the railroads and the audacious claims of Great Britain seem far more potent with our president than the appeal of the womanhood of the nation," Senator Bristow, Republican of Kansas turned discussion of woman suffrage in the senate today into a vigorous debate on the proposed repeal of the free tolls provision of the Panama canal act. Senator Bristow's attack brought to the defense of the president several Republican as well as Democrat senators, while it served also as the signal for opening the fight within the Democratic party against repeal of the tolls exemption provision. Senator Chamberlain of Oregon, Democrat said he would not "stultify" himself by telling his constituents that he had not kept his platform pledge on the toll question "because the president of the United States does not agree with me."

While senators were thus engaged in the first open discussion of the approaching battle in congress over the chief executive's desire for reversal of the Panama policy, the president was engaged with leaders of the house of representatives who are opposed to repudiating the declaration of the party platform. He discussed the situation with Majority Leader Underwood and Representative Kitchin of North Carolina but so far as could be learned did not convert them to his view that the provision granting free tolls to American vessels violates the Hay-Pauncefote treaty and embarrasses the administration in its foreign relations.

Is Not Consistent.

Senator Bristow based his charge of inconsistency against the president on the ground that he had told the suffragists he could not advocate their cause because the Democratic party had not expressed itself in the matter while he proposed that congress should reverse itself on the tolls question despite the fact that the party had endorsed its action. In this connection the Kansas senator mentioned the reference in the Baltimore platform favoring a single presidential term and asked whether the president would "interpret this plank in harmony with his position as to suffrage or as to canal tolls."

When Senator Bristow said that the Trans-Continental railroad had for years been behind the fight against free tolls for American ships and intimated that they had influenced the president, Senator Lodge of Massachusetts, Republican member of the foreign relations committee said the president was accused in his attitude on the toll question solely by his desire to restore the United States to its former prestige among nations.

Concluding after frequent interruptions the Kansas senator asserted that the night to save the grip of the trans-continental railroads "cannot be hidden behind our relations to foreign countries or the skirts of the president of the United States."

Owen to Wilson's Defense.

Senator Owen of Oklahoma was the first to rise to the president's defense. He asserted that the conscience of no Democrat was bound by the Baltimore platform on the tolls question because it did not represent the sober judgment of the party on that point.

Senator Chamberlain of Oregon, who voiced the first formal opposition to the president within the party ranks, said:

"It is a matter of history that the railroads of this country particularly the trans-continental railroads, prevented the construction of the Panama canal for years and when the question of granting coastwise vessels freedom from tolls was under discussion here in the senate those of us who knew the lobbyists of the railway companies could look up in any of the galleries and recognize the faces of Mr. Schwerin and other men who were lobbying for the railway companies here and opposing this part of the Panama canal act. Having failed to defeat the building of the canal they now invade the field of diplomacy."

"Where are we going to stop? Are we going to listen to an insistence which may be made hereafter by some foreign power against railway owned ships passing through the canal. That violates the treaty as much as the free tolls provision. Are we going to dismantle our forts? Are we going to say that our naval vessels must pay tolls. Some nation may say that they violate the treaty with as much force as Great Britain now protests to us."

VERDICT IN FAVOR OF SENATOR GORE RETURNED BY JURY

Jury Considering M r s .
Bond's Suit for Damages
Is Out Only Ten Minutes

NEEDED NO EVIDENCE

Jurors Announce That Had Gore
Rested His Case Without Evidence Verdict Would Be Same

CROWDS CHEER SENATOR

OKLAHOMA CITY, Okla., Feb. 18.—A verdict in favor of United States Senator Thomas P. Gore was returned here today in the suit of Mrs. Minnie E. Bond against him to recover fifty thousand dollars damages, for an alleged attack made on her in a Washington hotel last March. The jury was out only ten minutes.

"We find," the jury stated in the verdict, "the evidence submitted by the plaintiff entirely insufficient upon which to base a suit; that said evidence wholly exonerates the defendant and had the defendant, at the conclusion of the plaintiff's evidence announced that he desired to introduce no evidence and rested his case our verdict would have been the same in that event as now rendered by us in favor of the defendant."

Trial of the suit began last Wednesday. In her declaration Mrs. Bond alleged that the senator attacked her when they conferred at a hotel in Washington last March in connection with the possible appointment of her husband Julian Bond as internal revenue collector at Oklahoma City. Gore seized her, she alleged, throwing her violently across a bed. She claimed she freed herself only after several men appeared in the doorway of the room. In the scuffle Mrs. Bond asserted, her face was scratched and hand fractured by fragments of her broken eye glasses. In his answer Senator Gore denied the charges and as a counter-charge alleged that the suit was instigated by political opponents who had failed in their efforts to obtain federal patronage.

Reach Verdict Quickly.

The case went to the jury at 5:42 o'clock, after Morton Rutherford, attorney for Mrs. Bond, made the closing argument. Four minutes later a deputy was summoned to the jury room.

"We have reached a verdict," the foreman told him. A hush fell over the court room.

"The jury is coming in," whispered the wife of the defendant as she leaned over and touched the senator's arm. She was weeping.

"Good," Senator Gore responded. The senator sat upright listening, his face sober, as it had been all through the trial.

"We, the jury find for the defendant," read the foreman.

Then the court room burst into cheers. The crowd shouted. There were rebel yells, and cowboy yells, and cat-calls, mingled with the stamping of feet, clapping of hands and pounding of umbrellas upon seats.

No one in the court room tried to stem the cheering. It rose and subsided and rose again. Judge Clark smiled. After the demonstration had lasted ten minutes the judge left the bench. Court was not adjourned—the judge forgot it. So did the sheriff. Senator Gore alone remained calm. The crowd surged toward him. His wife had her arms around him. She was weeping almost hysterically. Hundreds crowded to get the senator's hand to congratulate him. Men threw their arms about his shoulders. The demonstration lasted thirty minutes.

Mrs. Bond Leaves Room.

Mrs. Bond and her husband left the court room while the demonstration was at its height.

When it was all over Senator Gore was asked what he thought of the verdict.

"It confirms my faith that truth will triumph," he said.

Mrs. Gore said she was "too happy for words."

"I am thinking now of my babies and I want to get home to them," she said.

President Wilson was one of the first to send his congratulations to Senator Gore after the verdict was returned. An hour later this telegram came from the White House, signed by the president's private secretary:

"Heartiest congratulations. 'Tumulty.'"

PEN-KNIFE IS FOUND IN AURORA CEMETERY

WAS FORMERLY PROPERTY OF BENCH-
MATE OF ANTHONY PETRAS

Frank Barimont Asserts He Lost Knife Three Years Ago, Yet When Found It Was Shiny and Sharp—Miss Hollander Will Be Buried Today—Inquest Will Be Resumed.

AURORA, Ill., Feb. 18.—A pen-knife found in the cemetery a few feet from where the battered body of twenty years old Theresa Hollander was found by her father was identified tonight according to the police. The knife formerly was the property of Frank Barimont, a bench mate of Anthony Petras, former sweetheart of Miss Hollander, who has been held in jail since the discovery of her body. The knife was lost three years ago, according to Barimont, but when found was sharp and shiny from having been carried in a pocket.

Miss Hollander will be buried in St. Nicholas cemetery tomorrow only a few feet from where her body was found. In the afternoon the coroner's inquest will be resumed. R. H. Schellberg, conductor on the street car on which both Miss Hollander and Petras were seen shortly before the murder, confirmed the statement of Walter Hickman, a negro, that Petras had ridden a block beyond where the girl left the car and after midnight had run swiftly back.

Petras' young wife spent most of the day just outside her husband's cell. She reiterated her faith in him tonight.

"Tony never killed her," she said. "He did not love her. He loves me."

WIRELESS OUTFITS MISPLACED ON MANY COASTWISE VESSELS

Testimony Is Given by Wireless Operator at Trial of Capt. Berry of Nantucket.

Philadelphia, Feb. 18.—The position of the wireless apparatus on the steamship Monroe which was sunk by the Nantucket off the Virginia coast with a loss of 41 lives had been impossible to send out "S. O. S." calls except for a few seconds after the crash.

Testimony to this effect was given by Robert L. Etheridge, a wireless operator aboard the Monroe who was the principal witness today at the trial of Captain Osmyrn Berry of the Nantucket, charged with negligence.

Etheridge said the wireless outfits were misplaced on nearly all coast-wise vessels and asserted that both the auxiliary or extra switches and the telephone to the pilot house should be placed at points convenient to the wireless operator.

Etheridge admitted under cross-examination that if he or the other operator had remained in the room a trifle longer the distress signal could have been sent out again by reason of the auxiliary dynamo placed in commission by the second engineer.

Andrew Sledin, the bow lookout of the Monroe was also a witness. He corroborated practically all that Captain Johnson had said about the collision and asserted that all the cargo ports and passenger gangways had been firmly closed before leaving Norfolk.

FRENCH LINE STEAMSHIP NIAGARA RETURNS TO HAVRE

Steamer Loses Propeller on Voyage to New York and Returns Under Sail.

Havre, France, Feb. 18.—The French line steamship Niagara which lost a propeller at sea while bound from Havre for New York returned here tonight. The Niagara with 147 passengers aboard ran into a heavy sea on the outward voyage. First one propeller was badly damaged by the tremendous swell and then the shaft of the other snapped and fell into the sea, leaving the vessel unmanageable. As soon as possible sails were hoisted and the return trip began. The passengers behaved splendidly notwithstanding the alarming situation, the captain said.

BANDIT BROUGHT TO HACHITA, N. M., BY U. S. TROOPERS

Castillo Seems Not Averse to Placing Himself Under Protection of U. S.

HARD PRESSED BY REBELS

Since Cumbre Tragedy He Has Known No Rest and Seems on Verge of Nervous Breakdown

MAY BE DETAINED IN U. S.

HACHITA, N. M., Feb. 18.—Maximo Castillo, the bandit who was brought here this afternoon by United States troops. With him were his brother, his trumpeter and the latter's wife and two Indian women. The bandit apparently was not averse to placing himself under the protection of the United States. His band which for months has harassed settlers, held prisoners for ransom, burned, sacked and stolen in a career which culminated in the Cumbre tunnel disaster is scattered and believed to be broken.

Since the Cumbre tragedy he has known no rest and seemed on the verge of nervous breakdown when brought here. Villa's rebels have been hot on his trail and along the American border American troops kept sleepless watch. Finally he chose capture by the latter as his fate.

On his person Lieut. Rothwell found the check for $1,000 given him by W. A. Ruxby as a ransom. Ruxby, an American who is manager of a Mexican ranch, was held up by Castillo a week or more ago. He is now in El Paso, where the bank has been instructed not to honor the check. The troopers and their prisoners camped last night at Las Cienegas, fifteen miles south of here. The trip was over the roughest roads and required five hours.

Castillo was not talkative. He looked at his instructors of bloodshot eyes, but vehemently asserted his innocence of complicity in the Cumbre tragedy. He said he was a Socialist and was conducting a separate revolution in order to attain that form of government for Mexico.

Furnishes Knotty Problem.

Washington, Feb. 18.—Capture of Maximo Castillo, the Mexican bandit chief charged with responsibility of the Cumbre tunnel tragedy, on American soil has furnished a knotty problem for officials here.

From the moment General Bliss reported today that Castillo and his companions had been taken by the border patrol in New Mexico there were conferences and exchanges between the state and war department officials to determine what should be done with the prisoners, who are temporarily held at Fort Bliss.

As the crime charged against Castillo was committed in Mexican territory, American courts are without jurisdiction although many of the victims were Americans. In time of peace the prisoners would be surrendered under extradition proceedings to the governor of the Mexican state of Chihuahua for trial. But as President Wilson has formally declared there is no government in Mexico, any extradition proceeding would involve great difficulties. The state department has been appealed to and pending its decision it is the intention of the war department to retain Castillo and his party in custody under the same conditions as General Zalazar and the federal soldiers who came across the international line with arms in hand, thereby subjecting themselves to detention.

Succeeds in Seeing Bauch.

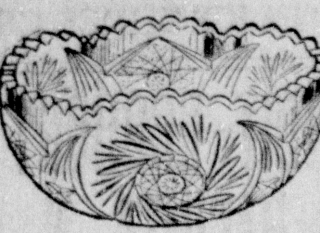

Juarez, Mex., Feb. 18.—Thos. D. Edwards, United States consul here today succeeded in seeing Gustav Bauch, the American whom the rebels are trying on a charge of being a spy.

Whereabouts of William S. Benton, the British subject who was arrested last night could not be learned. General Villa said he was not locked up but meanwhile his friends made a fruitless search for him.

Senor Ramon, chief of the rebel secret service, explained that Bauch's case was still being heard and that it is the rule to hold prisoners incommunicado until decision is given. No one could explain adequately the charges against the prisoner but Senor Ramon said that there was much documentary evidence which seemed to incriminate him as a spy.

Benton is a Scotchman and is known to be outspoken. Last night he went to General Villa to protest against the action of rebels who tore down a fence of his big ranch near Chihuahua and pastured their horses on his property.

He called Villa a number of names of which "bandit" was one of the mildest. Villa is sensitive of his record as an outlaw which he was for many years and rose as if to strike his accuser. The latter also was ready with his fists but bystanders interfered and Benton was marched off to jail.

YOUNG MEN'S BOOSTER CLUB PLANS TO WORK FOR REST ROOM

Annual Meeting Wednesday Night Is Most Enthusiastic One—Election of Officers Is Held.

At the annual meeting of the Young Men's Booster Club, held in the Chamber of Commerce headquarters Wednesday night, plans for the work of the ensuing year were discussed and among the things that the club has set out to accomplish is the establishment of a rest room for the convenience of the general public and visitors to the city. This was the time for the annual election of officers and it resulted in the choice of George Vasconcellos for president, W. D. Gates for vice president and Fred Hopper for secretary-treasurer.

In the absence of the president, John D. Cain, the vice president acted as chairman for the evening. The minutes of the last regular and special meetings were read and approved. Secretary Pritchey of the Chamber of Commerce, suggested that the members start out with the set purpose of working for one or more fixed propositions and see that they are carried through during the coming year. He gave the suggestions as to what the organization should work for, among them being the establishment of a rest room and the designating, or interesting the city officials and other organizations of the city, in setting aside a certain week in the early spring for a clean-up campaign.

Several other good talks were given and the rest room proposition received a good share of discussion. Before adjournment was taken it was decided that the matter of securing and equipping a rest room be given immediate attention with a view to having one established in the course of a short time, probably in three weeks. The details of the plan are to be worked out by the executive committee of the club. At the election of officers John D. Cain, the retiring vice president, declined election to the presidency and J. Rodgers declined re-election as secretary-treasurer. The executive committee appointed by the president, consists of Jay Rodgers, John D. Cain, Commissioner Knollenberg and Bascom Lair.

COLLECTOR SEIZES WESTERN FUEL COMPANY'S BOOKS

Will Attempt to Determine Whether His Theory of Fraud Is Correct—Jurors Locked in Room.

San Francisco, Feb. 18.—Following on the heels of the conviction last night of James B. Smith, vice-president and general manager, F. C. Mills, superintendent, and E. H. Mayer, chief weigher, Western Fuel company officials, for defrauding the government out of customs drawbacks last night, J. J. Scott, collector of internal revenue, seized the company's books that he may determine whether his theory that the corporation has defrauded the government out of something near $300,000 in income taxes during the last five years is correct. Also, the chief special agent of the treasury department announced that the company would be sued for the amount of drawbacks the government lost through the alleged frauds of General Manager Smith and his associates.

A corps of experts were put to work on the books of the company today, but it is said it will take months for them to prepare a complete report. It developed today that the verdict was ready at 10:15 p. m. last night, but the jury was locked in a room and could not get out to report. There was a bell with which they were supposed to call the marshal, but the bell was disconnected and the jurors pounded on the door for an hour and three quarters in a vain endeavor to attract attention. When Marshal Holohan put his head through the door at mid-night to ask about having the jurors' beds made the foreman roared.

"Beds—Thunder. Here we've been for nearly two hours pressing that hanged bell button until our fingers are sore. Take us into court."

SOCIAL EVENTS.

Mrs. W. A. Fay entertained a company of girl friends from the Illinois Woman's College at tea Wednesday afternoon at her home on West State street, in honor of Mrs. Charles Brainerd of Waterloo, Ia., who is visiting in the city. Mrs. Brainerd was formerly Miss Adelaide Wright, a former student at the Illinois Woman's College. The afternoon proved a most pleasant one.

The East Side Embroidery club met with a full attendance Wednesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. G. L. Riggs of 207 East College avenue. Two hours were spent at work after which the guests took part in a guessing contest. Mrs. John Pires won the first prize and the consolation prize went to Mrs. Philip Schulz. The hostess served some excellent refreshments and the guests left with the consciousness of an afternoon very profitably spent. Mrs. Otto Kuchmann, one of the members of the club, was presented with a piece of Haviland china in honor of her birthday.

The East Side Tuesday club held its regular meeting at the home of Mrs. E. L. Kinney, 197 South Prairie street, with a large attendance. An interesting paper was read by Mrs. A. C. Baldwin on "The Effect of the Panama Canal on the West Coast of South America." After the business session the hostess invited the guests to a social hour when refreshments were served in keeping with Washington's birthday. Several numbers on the Victrola entertained the guests while they partook of the refreshments.

A birthday surprise was given Miss Nelle C. Doying at the home of her sister, Mrs. G. E. Doying on Pine street Wednesday afternoon. The surprise was planned and cleverly executed by Mrs. Doying and Mrs. E. A. Olds. Miss Doying did not know of the affair until she was invited to her sister's home where her friends had assembled. The afternoon was spent in sewing and refreshments were served.

A farewell party was given for John Fitzsimmons and family, who reside three and one-half miles east of Woodson. The family expects to move to a farm in North Dakota about the first of March. Sixty neighbors and friends were present, among them Stephen Guinane and Willie Walsh of Winchester. The evening was spent in playing various games and suitable refreshments were served.

TWO BASKETBALL GAMES HERE TONIGHT

MILLIKIN U. TEAM WILL BE PITTED AGAINST ILLINOIS.

High School Will Strive for Honors Against the Hannibal High School—Close Scores Expected in Both Contests—Officials for High School Tournament Named.

Lovers of basketball will be given a chance to see some real playing tonight as two strong teams come here. Millikin University, which boasts of a quintet which is strong in strong for the state tournament will line up against Illinois college.

The Hannibal high school has a team of superior strength and defeated Jacksonville in the first game played about a month ago and will be seen in action here tonight in Strawn's hall.

The Illinois basketball men are ready for Millikin tonight. They realize that they must play whirlwind ball in order to defeat the fast stepping Decatur bunch and they have been preparing for some time to do the task.

The games played against Millikin early in the season in which Millikin easily trimmed Illinois on the Millikin floor cannot be taken as a true criterion of the playing strength of the two teams.

None of the Illinois players were in shape to play real basketball that night. Frisbie and Wilson were playing their first game of intercollegiate basketball and each man was pitted against a player who had had a year or more of experience in college basketball.

Stewart was attempting to play a forward position and was not at all at home in that place, after playing so long at guard. Since then he has been shifted back to guard, where he and Atchison are working well together.

Pierce is developing fast and is ready to step into the shoes of either of the other guards, should they slow up in their play. Frisbie at center is improving and now is being pushed by Hale, the former Jacksonville high school center, who entered school at the beginning of the second semester.

Capt. Gary, Harmon and McLaughlin at the forward positions will keep the Millikin guards busy.

The Millikin team is composed entirely of veteran players. Four of them were on the squad last year and all of them have had several years experience in the game. A fast game from start to finish is anticipated for the Illinois men are determined to wipe out the defeat received at the hands of Millikin in the first game of the season. Jarvis Clark of Carthage will referee the game.

Jacksonville vs. Hannibal.

Coach Buland has had his men under several days hard training in anticipation of the game in Strawn's hall tonight against the fast Hannibal high school quintet. Hannibal has been piling up some good healthy scores this season and the local men realized that they will have to put up the snappiest game ever played in order to down the Missourians.

Jacksonville showed the best class yet when they defeated the Springfield team here. Since that, however, they went to Quincy where they were decisively defeated. As the tournament is close at hand the game tonight will in a measure show what J. H. S. will be able to accomplish, for it is doubtful if there is any other team which will enter the conference any stronger than Hannibal, excepting it be Springfield.

On Friday night J. H. S. played in Peoria against Spaulding Institute and Saturday night against Canton at Canton.

A curtain raiser will be played tonight between the Juniors and Seniors at 8 o'clock and the big game will start at 8:30. Coach Buland has announced the following lineup: Boxell and E. Pyatt, forwards; Reynolds and Sutherland, centers; Smith Hembrough and Pyatt, guards.

Tournament Entries.

The following teams have sent word that they would enter the district tournament here next week: Bluffs, Canton, Farmington, Good Hope, Granite City, Ipava, Manchester, Mt. Sterling, Pittsfield, Petersburg, Virginia, White Hall, Springfield, Edwardsville and Alton. Routt College high has not yet decided whether to enter, nor has Griggsville.

Officials Named.

According to a list of officials sent out by Vice President J. H. Newton, Ralph Tenney of Decatur high school and William Duerr secretary of the Decatur Y. M. C. A., will be the officials at the meet to be held here. On account of the Rockford tournament being held this week instead of next Mr. Newton has been unable to secure officials for that tourney, but has sent a list of 16 names approved by the Chicago suburban high school league. The date of the State Championship tournament has been fixed as March 13 and 14, although the place will not be determined until after the sectional tourneys are over. The complete list of officials follows:

Southern tournament at Carbondale—William McAndrews of Carbondale Normal and James L. Gray of Washington University of St. Louis.

Eastern tournament at Charleston—C. E. Howell of Decatur high school and C. B. Lantz, physical director of Charleston Normal.

Western tournament at Jacksonville—Ralph Tenney of Decatur, and William Duerr, secretary of the Decatur Y. M. C. A.

Central tournament at Bloomington—W. R. Burdick and R. A. Mitchell, of the Y. M. C. A. Training school of Chicago.

North central tournament at Peoria—W. H. Gunn of the Y. M. C. A. Training school, Chicago.

Northwestern tournament at Elgin—F. B. Wheelock and another man from the Y. M. C. A. Training

Fighting Mail Order Houses.

The merchants of Jacksonville and every other city and town of the country engage in combat with the big mail order houses. The methods of combat vary. In some instances the merchant keeps on hand a mail order house catalogue and attempts to either show customers that he can furnish like articles for as low a price or to point out defects in the goods listed. Haynes, Rupert & Co., conduct a very large general store at Rockport in Pike county and the plan they follow is indicated by the following which appears on a placard in a prominent place in their store.

"Let us order for you, our mail order department will get your any article advertised by any catalogue house for the same price or less, on the same terms and conditions. Let us save you the trouble of writing the letter and the expense of money orders and stamps."

Mr. Rupert when asked about the notice said recently that by agreeing to supply any article in the mail order catalogue at exactly the same price that his firm has succeeded in heading off business which would otherwise go to Chicago. In only rare instances has he had any difficulty in duplicating the offers and still having a profit.

Morgan County and the Judgeship.

The Journal's interest in the special judicial primary to be held Tuesday March 24th is in seeing Morgan county retain a resident judge. Morgan county should have the Circuit Judgeship and the nomination of Judge P. E. Baldwin is the only solution assuring this.

He is an able lawyer, thirty-eight years of age, clean and well qualified for the place. The volume of Circuit Court business, the convenience with which the other county seats can be reached from Jacksonville, make a resident Circuit Judge in Morgan county desirable.

Judge Baldwin's nomination must be made by Democrats. It therefore behooves those of that political faith in this county to take an active interest in his behalf if they wish to have a resident circuit judge.

The Value of a Friend.

"The longer I live," said a well known Jacksonville citizen the other day, "the more I am impressed with the value of friendship. I have reached the point where I believe there is no man so lowly, so insignificant, so 'ornery' if you please but that his friendship is worth while."

And this is the view no doubt of the man of mature years who has come to know how changeable and fickle are the affairs of life, how really few friendships one does contract which last a life time. Naturally the intimate, long standing friendships are the ones most prized but the lesser friendships, those not so intimate and not of so long standing have value too.

It is a noticeable thing, too, that as men and women grow older that they begin to hold their relatives in higher regard. There seems to come a time when people turn with new feeling of kinship to uncles and aunts and to have a new feeling of interest in cousins or even those more distantly related. All of which goes to show that possibly hearts are tenderer as time moves along and both men and women come to a realization that "it is not all of life to live" and that friendship and kinship have much to do with happiness.

Springfield Will Take Stock.

Over in Springfield the other day a motion was made in the city council that an inventory of all city property be taken. The plan is for the head of every department to take his employees on a certain day or days and list every article in his possession which belongs to the city. It is said that such an inventory has not been made in Springfield for many a year and no doubt this same condition prevails in hundreds of other cities. It seems like a good business idea for a city as well as a firm to occasionally take stock and see just where it is "at" in the matter of property and equipment.

O'Hara Appeals To Women.

And now comes Lieut. Gov. Barratt O'Hara with the announcement that he will be a candidate for the United States senate on the Democratic ticket. Mr. O'Hara says that so far as he is concerned that it will be a campaign into which no harshness will enter and that he will say nothing unkind or untrue about his opponent for the honor.

In a somewhat extended announcement the lieutenant governor reviews briefly the work of the Illinois vice commission of which he was chairman and suggests that the real issue in the coming campaign is that the rights of toiling women and children be given full consideration. He mentions that he was instrumental in carrying forward the investigation in Illinois and that he has the feeling that he could accomplish great things along the same line in the senate. It is noticeable that Mr. O'Hara's announcement is addressed to "the men and women of Illinois" and that much he says is an evident appeal to women.

Gave Bulk of Estate to Charity.

The will of the late James S. Francis of Sangamon county is likely to be a good thing for the lawyers. Mr. Francis left an estate valued at about $75,000 and only $2,000 of that sum goes to relatives. The remainder is distributed among various educational and religious organizations, mostly under the direction of the Presbyterian church. Several Springfield charitable institutions are also remembered. The property includes 252 acres of fine land.

Bad Weather Helps.

These latter days with sleet and snow have not been the most pleasant for the average citizen but the fact remains that farm lands have been greatly benefitted. The snow which covered the wheat for some days was an advantage protecting the tender shoots from frosty weather and that which fell last night gave protection, too, when for a time there was a strong possibility that the rain would be followed by lower temperature and would freeze around the growing wheat much to its detriment.

One farmer was reported recently as plowing in a field where snow was on the ground and presented the novel sight of turning over earth and snow at the same time. He found it is said that the ground was not frozen enough to interfere at all with his work. The snow and rain have not only helped the wheat but are said to have helped conditions too by killing off a good many insects which are a source of menace as long as they have life.

Will Try New Plan.

The state fish and game commission has sold the farm machinery which has been used on the state game farm. Under the former administration the grain which was fed to the birds was raised on the farm, but it has been decided by the commission that the feed can be purchased for less money than it costs to raise it.

Mendota Mayor Balks.

Objecting because of an attempt by the City Council, to cut his salary from $2 to $16 cents a day, Mayor Charles Rogers of Mendota, a city of 5,000 inhabitants, has struck and the city's business is tied up indefinitely. Besides refusing to sign any bills or sanction any of the city's transactions, the mayor has threatened to sue the municipality unless he is paid a salary of $300 a year.

MISS AILEEN HEPPNER PLACED ON TRIAL ON PERJURY INDICTMENT

Chicago, Feb. 18.—Miss Aileen Heppner, charged with perjury and conspiracy to defame Clarence S. Funk, former general manager of the International Harvester company was placed on trial today on the perjury indictment.

Counsel for Miss Heppner filed a motion to quash the indictment and arguments were begun which will be concluded tomorrow.

Miss Heppner's indictment grew out of her testimony in the $25,000 damage suit filed by John Henning, a bell boy, charging Funk with having alienated the affections of Mrs. Henning.

Funk was acquitted and indictments charging conspiracy were found against Miss Heppner, Daniel Donahoe, Henning's attorney and Isaac Steifel, a private detective. Donahoe was convicted and Steifel was acquitted.

Counsel for Miss Heppner today attacked the indictment because it referred to Mr. Funk as a "man of good standing, good repute and name and a man undefamed." These words, he said, were prejudicial.

PRESIDENT WILSON CONFERS WITH CHAIRMAN CLARK

Washington, Feb. 18.—President Wilson sent for Chairman Clark of the inter-state commerce committee today and they had a half hour's conference the exact nature of which was not revealed. White house officials said afterward the president merely sought certain information.

It was suggested in some quarters that the president desired information on points in proposed legislation to relate the issuance of stock security by railroads.

Varying reports that the president had expressed to Mr. Clark an opinion on the merits of the proposed advances in freight rates sought by the eastern railroads brought forth a denial from Chairman Clark who said:

"The president never at any time has discussed with me the proposed rate advance and has not expressed to me any opinion he may entertain respecting it."

LOCAL OPTION PETITION IS FILED IN DANVILLE

DANVILLE, Ill., Feb. 18.—A local option petition bearing 3,000 signatures over six hundred of which are by women, will be filed tomorrow morning with the city election commissioners. Today was the last day for registering for the city primary and the 1,840 names added to the registration lists, 1,450 were women. The churches, women's societies and temperance organizations have been active in getting women voters registered in preparation for a battle against the saloons of Danville at the spring elections.

PRESBYTERIANS WILL HELP SWING WESTERN STATES INTO "DRY"

NEW YORK, Feb. 18.—The Presbyterian church will send 250 temperance workers into California, Colorado, Washington and Oregon in an effort to swing these states into the "dry" column at the next fall election. They will take with them motion picture films teaching lessons against the sale of alcohol. Plans for the crusade were perfected today at a meeting of the Presbyterian board of temperance.

WAR VETERAN GIVES REMINISCENCES
OF PRES. LINCOLN AND COL. BAKERKnew Both of the Famous Men
Well—Gives Incidents of the Battle of Cerro Gordo.

Editor of Journal: You present correspondent being not only personally acquainted with President Lincoln and Col. E. D. Baker, in whose regiment, 4th Ill. Vol., I was a soldier, in Co. D in the war with Mexico, and was betrayed by both of them, I read with much interest the article published in the Journal of February 12, 1914, under the head of "Lincoln's Friend."

The writer of that article did not mention in the different movements from place to place of Col. Baker, that at one time he lived in St. Louis and while living there that he drove a city dray for making a living. This fact was told to me by Col. Baker.

Another incident unnoticed in the article published, except very briefly, when Col. Baker as a senator entered the senate chamber in full uniform and sword as a colonel, he listened for a short time to the speeches of senators of the seceding states. He then arose from his seat and said (I only repeat from memory the substance of part of his speech, not in the language used when he did speak. The whole speech will be found and description of him at that time, in Blaine's Thirty Years in the Senate) "That the halls of the American congress should not be degraded by speeches of polished treason." *

Mexican War.

At the battle of Cerro Gordo Col. Baker commanded the 4th Regiment of Ill. Vol., and Col. Foreman the 3rd Regiment. Both these regiments formed the brigade of General Shields (a personal friend of my father) whom at that time I did not know personally. General Shields was shot through the lungs by a large escopet bullet. At Pueblo, when he was convalescing, I called on him, introducing myself. I think that the writer of "Lincoln's Friend" was mistaken when he wrote, "After the wounding of this gallant officer, General Shields in another moment there would have been a retreat, probably a rout * * and flashing his sword Col. Baker shouted to his men 'Come on * * * the brave fellows sprang forward to follow the intrepid leader and drove the Mexicans pellmell out of their fortifications."

My memory is clear and distinct in regard to our movements at Cerro Gordo, viz: The brigade of General Shields and other volunteer forces, of which only one regiment of New York Vol., commanded by Wayne Reid, were ordered to turn the enemy's left wing, to do which we had to make our way straddling through the chapparal. In doing so we were observed by the enemy from the main heights, who fired on us of Col. Baker's regiment, who were in the advance and Co. D in which I was, was armed with rifles, were in the lead, and escaped all injuries, as the balls passed overhead, causing only of ducking of heads. Col. Baker was leading when we surprised a company of lancers, who were soon dispersed. On their left, on lower ground, there was a battery of seven guns which we charged and captured; some time after Wayne Reid's regiment made its appearance and claimed to have taken the battery. We saw no fortifications on our route. Col. Baker could not have been near to the place where Gen. Shields was wounded and his wound must have been from a bullet shot from the heights, which we passed without harm.

After we had captured the seven gun battery I noticed, not distant, a carriage, not team being attached to it, and jestingly I said to my comrades, "Boys, there is Santa Anna's carriage." Some of the boys went to the carriage, obtained Santa Anna's cork or wooden leg, which was brought to Springfield as a trophy. They also picked up several Mexican dollars scattered on the ground, and guess never reached as far as Springfield.

Civil War.

A great deal has been written about the Ball's Bluffs disaster. The writer of "Lincoln's Friend" writes, "Apparently Gen. Stone, in command, made a mistake." The truth of the matter, in my humble opinion, was, and still remains, that Gen. McClellan, who gave the order for Gen. Stone to order Col. Baker and troops to occupy and defend that point, made the blunder and that it was not a mistake of Gen. Stone. When Gen. Stone gave the order for crossing to the promontory to Col. Baker, the colonel then and there held a commission as major general and could have refused to receive an order from an inferior officer, but Col. Baker only replied, "I will obey the order notwithstanding it is my death warrant," which proved true. Incidental to the disaster at Ball's Bluffs Senator James A. McDougal of California was a fast and warm friend of Gen. Stone and was so insistent that the administration should cause an investigation of the matter, that being refused by his persistent efforts to have made a mistake and the odium of it placed on McClellan, where he believed it belonged, he came under the ban of the administration. Knowing this and finding himself without influence, he commenced on that downward career which ended his sad career and death in the capitol. Both were my friends.

This contribution is growing too long, so will not inflict more on your time and space. Very respectfully,
John N. King,
Bat. Maj., Capt. Com. Subintendant or United States Volunteers,

PERSONAL CONTEST ON FOR SENATORSHIP IN IDAHO.James Brady, Chosen to Fill Term
of Senator Heyburn, Finds Many
To Oppose His Re-election.

Boise, Idaho, Feb. 18.—The efforts of the opponents of United States Senator James H. Brady to prevent his re-election this year have precipitated an exceedingly interesting personal contest in Idaho. There are many powerful forces at work against him, and if he succeeds in getting back to the senate in spite of them all it will be a remarkable victory. No Idaho politician has ever faced so formidable a combination as that which now confronts him.

Mr. Brady was elected to the senate a little more than a year ago to fill the unexpired term of Welden P. Heyburn, deceased. He had served as governor and had long been one of the leaders of the Republican party in Idaho. The state is normally Republican and under ordinary conditions it would seem a comparatively easy matter for Senator Brady to return to Washington for a six year term.

But the situation as it exists at present is badly complicated. On the Republican side alone there are four candidates for Senator Brady's seat. In addition to Senator Brady himself the candidates are Frank R.
Gooding, a former governor of the state and one of the largest sheep raisers in the country; James F.
Ailshie, chief justice of the state supreme court and Burton Lee French, who has served ten years in congress and has a large political following.

Geography adds to the complications. With interests and industries of an entirely different nature, the northern and southern halves of Idaho, ever since the admission to statehood, have observed a sort of a tacit agreement that each should have a representative in the senate.
The election of ex-Governor Brady was not in accord with this understanding. Senator Heyburn hailed from northern Idaho and when he died that section naturally felt entitled to name his successor. It failed to agree on a candidate, however, and Mr. Brady, whose home is in south Idaho, was successful in capturing the toga. Now north In-daho comes back with a very insistent demand that the old agreement be observed, but again it is handicapped by a division of its forces.
Chief Justice Ailshie and Congressman French both live in north In-daho and unless one or the other withdraws from the contest the plum may again fall to a south In-daho man.

Fred T. Dubois, former United States senator and one of the most consummate politicians in the state, is one of the important factors to be considered in the senatorial campaign. There has been talk that he would be a candidate for Senator Brady's seat on the Progressive ticket and this is admitted would break into the ranks of the Republicans in a serious manner.

With the Progressives opposing the regular Republicans and the latter fighting among themselves it would seem on the surface of things a comparatively easy matter for the Democrats to elect a senator. But the Democrats likewise are divided into bitter hostile factions, with the federal patronage as the bone of contention. John F. Nugent is the champion of the Wilson-Bryan faction of the party and is expected to have the support of the national administration in his race for the senate. Opposed to him is a strong faction of the party which is boasting ex-Governor James H. Hawley for the senate. With Republicans and Democrats divided among themselves and a third party in the field
no one would be rash enough to venture a prediction as to the final result of the contest. The only certainty is that the campaign will be the hardest fought in the history of Idaho.

PLEDGE MILLIONS TO FIGHT AGAINST USURYVirginia Corporation is Launched to Battle Against Loan Sharks.

New York, Feb. 18.—With the purpose of correcting the "loan shark" evil throughout the country, by making it possible for deserving persons of small means to borrow money at reasonable rates and without collateral, there will be incorporated at Richmond, Va., a company known as the Industrial Financing Corporation. To accomplish its end, the new company, which is incorporated under authority of the Virginia state corporation commission, with a capital of $6,000,000, will facilitate and assist financially the organization throughout the country of local institutions, which will afford industrious and needy wage earners, and all other small borrowers the opportunity for borrowing small sums of money on just and fair terms, at at the same time promote savings among its patrons.

As formally expressed in the charter, the object of the company is to encourage and assist in the organization of local institutions in every city of sufficient size throughout the country will.

"First, provide for the worthy wage earner and other small borrower, where the need of the loan is apparent, opportunity for borrowing small sums of money without the necessity of submitting to the extortion of money lenders, but at rates which are reasonable to the borrower and yet fairly remunerative to capital; to enable the small borrower to secure such moneys largely upon the faith of endorsements and guarantees and without requirement of a pledge of chattels
as collateral security for repayment, and

"Second, to provide opportunity for the systematic investment of small savings, bearing a higher rate of interest than is now feasible and affording a basis for the securing of credit and thus to encourage thrift."

Follows Morris Plan.
According to the formal announcement made today the corporation has acquired all the assets of the Fidelity Corporation of America, which has heretofore had the sole right to the "Morris plan" of industrial savings and loans, every expression and every form of which is covered by copyrights. The plan was originated by Arthur J. Morris and his law firm, Messrs. Morris, Garnett & Cotten of Norfolk, Va., and the first institution to operate under the plan was launched four years ago at Norfolk.

The man who needs money but lacks such collateral as is required by existing financial institutions has hitherto been forced to seek loans from either the pawn broker or the chattel mortgage man. These lenders are of two classes, the benefi-cent and the rapacious, the latter class being generally known as
"loan sharks."

Organizations such as the Provident Loan Society of New York and the chattel mortgage societies have considerable good to individuals of this unfortunate sort, today's announcement sets forth, but their operations requiring a pledge of mortgage of chattels does not touch the still larger field, where the evil of usury continues to thrive.

The "Morris Plan" means the extension of honorable borrowing facilities and instructive savings facilities to the masses; it means that hereafter the wage earner, or other small borrower of sound character, in time of need, will be able to obtain money on terms convenient and fair; it means that hereafter the honest individual will find a premium placed upon his habits of thrift that will become for him a basis for credit he never had before.

THEN and NOW

Despatches from Mexico City
just a year ago today averred that February 19 was a day to be remembered in Mexican history. It saw the sudden rise of General Victoriano Huerta from a long career as military commander to the head of the government. Generals who had been defending President Madero
from the fire of revolutionists under Gen. Felix Diaz, gave way to intrigue, forced Madero's resignation and made him prisoner.
He was later shot to death. A congress in the streets of the capital just a year ago tonight selected Huerta provisional president.

At the end of his first year in power Huerta's government is unrecognized by the United States, American, British French and German warships are along his coasts watching conditions in his country. Revolutionists in the north under Generals Carranza and Villa have taken several of his strongholds, and now with access to arms from the United States they are moving south upon Torreon, with Mexico City as their ultimate objective. In the south the independent followers of General Zapata continue their uprisings. Huerta declares he has a loyal army of 150,000 men and reports continue that he may himself take the field against his enemies.

A great many nice and useful presents were received by both ladies. At 10:30 a two course luncheon was served and much enjoyed and at a late hour all departed with many good wishes for those who have and are soon to embark on the sea of life.

Those present were: Myrtle Sargent, Mayme Hagerty, Mary Sloan,

HARRY WOODS AND CIVIL SERVICE COMMISSION DIFFER

May Ask Supreme Court to Decide Which Has Authority to Employ Examiners of Chauffeurs.

Springfield, Ill., Feb. 18.—Secretary of State Harry Woods and the state civil service commission may ask the Supreme court to determine which has authority to employ examiners of chauffeurs. The civil service commission today announced that the following had qualified:

Ben Cochran, Sullivan.
Charles V. Cooney, Moline.
William T. Clune, Chicago.
Clarence S. Ray, Kankakee.
Secretary Woods, however, supported by Attorney General Patrick J. Lucey, recently appointed an examiner of chauffeurs, acting upon the authority of the special automobile act.

The civil service commission is expected to refuse to approve the act of the examiner appointed by Secretary Woods and demand that he accept the eligibles certified by the commission.

Secretary Woods, however, will not act until the civil service commission makes further moves.

PLAN FOR CONVICT WORK ON SOME ILLINOIS ROADWAYS

Penitentiary Wards and Highway Commissioners Suggest That Various Committees Enter Friendly Contest to Secure Workers.

The Illinois State Highway Commission and Edmund Allen Warden of the penitentiary at Joliet have issued a statement explaining the plan which is contemplated of having convicts work on the state highways. It is stated that 250 trusty convicts are available for the work and are anxious to do it. The localities in which the convicts will work are to be decided by friendly competition. The present movement results largely from the wish of Gov. Dunne to have road work done by the convicts. The letter which has just been issued on the subject by Warden Allen and the Commissioners A. D. Gash, S. E. Bradt and J. P. Wilson reads as follows:

"At a conference held at Springfield in the office of the Governor on January 8th, 1914, between Edward F. Dunne, Governor; Edmund Allen, warden of the penitentiary at Joliet, and the three members of the State Highway Commission, it was shown by the warden that there were 250 trusty prisoners who could be relied on for faithful services and good deportment if permitted to work on the public highways in different parts of the state.

"It was first determined that the chief benefits to the commonwealth to be derived by using the convicts outside of the prison walls would be to rehabilitate the men themselves in their own manhood, thus preparing them again for citizenship before leaving the penal institution.

"It was then shown that the men to be selected were not vicious characters at heart and would not require much guarding and that therefore their keep outside of the penal institution would not exceed 50 cents each per day. It was therefore decided to only charge the communities who should call for their services that amount per day and that this should cover every expense that the communities would incur from the time the convicts left the penitentiary until their return.

"It was also decided that it would not be very profitable to the localities to take them to any community for the purpose of constructing less than five miles of highway. It was further shown that the greatest saving to the locality employing them would be to have them construct macadam roads, and that the state could furnish the crushed stone for making such roads by the community paying the freight on the stone from the prison to the railroad station nearest the scene of the improvement to be made and furnishing teams to haul the stone from the station or stations and scatter it along the route to be improved.

"It was further shown that the only added expense to the communities employing the labor would be the freight on the steam rollers, tools and machinery necessary to carry forward the work to completion and pay the expenses of the engineers from the highway department while supervising the work.

"Therefore it was determined that for the city or cities, community or communities who would first provide a fund to meet the expense necessary under the provisions above stated for the construction of not less than five miles of highway, provided the local highway commissioners call for the prisoners, as required by law, the state highway commission will at once undertake the construction of such highway or highways. Said road, however, not to be taken over as a state aid road, but to be left to the maintenance of the community or communities where it is located.

"It will not be necessary for any community to employ more than fifty convicts at any one time to entitle them to this service. This would enable five different localities to work in the manner above provided at the same time.

"The construction work may be done on any road under the jurisdiction of the local highway commissioners, which would include any state aid road not under actual construction by the state and county.

"All of the cities, counties and communities of the state are hereby given the opportunity to compete for this improvement and to the first community or communities complying with the terms above mentioned, the services will be rendered. Estimates of cost for construction per mile will be given as soon as the location of the road is ascertained. It is desired that such a highway of from ten to eighty miles should be constructed in 1914."

OUR PRESIDENTS.

The following clever rhyme was written by members of the eighth grade school. It is also fair to them to say that it was prepared for home consumption without any thought of its appearing in print.

The American presidential line began in seventeen eighty-nine; The roll was led by Washington Who served two terms, then Adams one.

Jefferson, Madison and Monroe All two terms each enjoyed although John Quincy Adams had but one; "Old Hickory" twice the honor won.

VanBuren was the next enrolled; One term the office he controlled; Harrison died and left years four For Tyler; Polk was then one more.

Z. Taylor died in years scarce two And Fillmore had the time then due. The next for one full term was Pierce; Buchanan then comes in our verse.

A Lincoln, first Republican, Killed as his second term began. Then Johnson followed until Grant Who served two terms, Hayes one.

Four months had Garfield, who was killed. Then Arthur well the office filled.

One term to Cleveland then was given. Till out by Harrison was driven; Then Cleveland had four years to hold.

Next came protection's reign and gold With brave McKinley, true and bold.

But he was killed in nineteen one And Roosevelt then the work begun. He held the place three years and more.

And was elected then for four. And then came Taft who oft played golf. And wore a smile none could rub off.

Then the Progressives tried in vain To put their Teddy back again; Republicans fought very well. But o'er the land had come a spell. Taft wasn't quite to Ted a brother And Teddy said, "You are another." Then Taft would pull poor Teddy's nose.

And Ted would tread upon Taft's toes. And while they had their lively bout Wilson jumped in and knocked both out.

"We have been using Chamberlain's Cough Remedy for the past month and consider it an indispensable. Its effect is almost instantaneous, and there is no use of talking. It is a dead shot on a cough or cold. We do not say this for any reason but because we consider Chamberlain's Cough Remedy the best made, and want the people to know it and use it."—Columbus Safeguard, Columbus Junction, Iowa. It now enjoys a world wide reputation and many thousands have testified to its excellence. For sale by all dealers.—Adv.

MOTHER! THE CHILD

IS COSTIVE, BILIOUS

Don't Hesitate! A Laxative is Necessary if Tongue is Coated, Breath Bad or Stomach Sour.

Give "California Syrup of Figs" at once—a teaspoonful today often saves a sick child tomorrow.

It your little one is out-of-sorts, half-sick, isn't resting, eating and acting naturally—look, Mother! see if tongue is coated. This is a sure sign that its little stomach, liver and bowels are clogged with waste. When cross, irritable, feverish, stomach sour, breath bad or has stomach-ache, diarrhoea, sore throat, full of cold, give a teaspoonful of "California Syrup of Figs," and in a few hours all the constipated poison, undigested food and sour bile gently goes out of its little bowels without griping, and you have a well, playful child again.

Mothers can rest easy after giving this harmless "fruit laxative," because it never fails to cleanse the little one's liver and bowels and sweeten the stomach and they dearly love its pleasant taste. Full directions for babies, children of all ages and for grown-ups printed on each bottle.

Beware of counterfeit fig syrups. Ask your druggist for a 50-cent bottle of "California Syrup of Figs," then see that it is made by the "California Fig Syrup Company." Don't be fooled.—Adv.

WORLD'S LATEST FINANCIAL AND MARKET NEWS

CONFLICTING NEWS REPORTS UPSET STOCK MARKET

Uncertainty as to Probable Disposition of Freight Rates Case Curiously Upsets Market—Fair Advances at Close.

(By Associated Press)

NEW YORK, Feb. 18.—The stock market was curiously upset today by conflicting reports concerning the probable disposition of the freight rates case. The story of the day illustrated the part which surmise and conjecture sometimes play in the affairs of the stock market.
Uncertainty as to the disposition
by the inter-state commerce commission of the Eastern railroads' application for a five per cent increase in freight rates has exerted a repressive influence on the market for so long that speculators were greatly long that when news came from Washington that President Wilson favored a speedy decision. The street, however, did not stop at that, but jumped to the conclusion that the president favored an increase in rates. A Wall street news agency published the statement that information from "a source close to the inter-state commerce commission" indicated that "a favorable decision" would be given at an early date.

On the strength of these assumptions the market, which had been dull and irregular early in the day, advanced strongly. The railroad stocks led the upturn but were followed readily by the industrials and most of the representative shares made gains of a point or more.
Half an hour before the close the street learned that it had assumed too much. Chairman Clark of the inter-state commerce commission was quoted in a Washington dispatch as saying that President Wilson had expressed no opinion regarding the merits of the freight rates case.
Traders who had bought stocks on the theory that the matter was as good as settled hastily threw over their holdings and the market slumped swiftly. Much of the day's gain was lost, although the market closed with a general showing of fair advances.

The weekly steel trade reviews reported a further increase in new orders. Pressed steel car was strengthened by its annual report, showing a gain of $1,404,000 in net.
Otherwise there was little to influence the course of the market,
aside from the freight rates case.
London did little here today.

Old Time Sores
And Ulcers Healed

Old Wounds Often Bother
Many Years After.

People who have been pouting and anointing an old sore for years and years marvel at the way it heals quickly after using S. S. S.

When you come to realize that the skin and the flesh beneath are composed of a network of tiny blood vessels you solve the mystery.

There are wonderful medicinal properties in S. S. S. that follow the course of the blood streams just as naturally as the most nourishing food elements.

It is really a remarkable remedy. It contains one ingredient, the active purpose of which is to stimulate the tissues to the healthy selection of its own essential nutrients. And the medicinal elements of this matchless blood purifier are just as essential to well-balanced health as the nutritious elements of the meats, grains, fats and sugars of our daily food.

Not one drop of minerals or drugs is used in its preparation. Ask for S. S. S. and just insist upon having it. And if you desire skillful advice and counsel upon any matter concerning the blood and skin, write to the medical department, The Swift Specific Co., 219 Swift Laboratory, Atlanta, Ga.

Do not allow some zealous clerk to larrup the atmosphere in eloquence over something "just as good" as S. S. S. Beware of all substitutes.

DON'T TRUST CALOMEL

THOUSANDS EXPERIENCE BAD
AFTER EFFECTS FROM THIS DANGEROUS DRUG.

A Safe Vegetable Substitute is Dr.
Edwards' Olive Tablets for the Liver.

Dr. F. M. Edwards, a prominent physician of Ohio, has discovered a laxative and liver toner in a combination of vegetable materials mixed with olive oil, which is in effect almost exactly like calomel, except that there are none of the bad after effects.

Dr. Edwards has long been a foe of calomel, though he recognized its value along with its dangers.

His distrust of the uncertain drug eventually started him, years ago, towards experiments with the view of discovering a substitute, and he has been for several years in possession of the long-sought-for combination, which is in the shape of a little sugar-coated, olive-colored tablet.

The results of 17 years' experience and practice are embodied in the marvelous little tablets.

They are called Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets. And their effect on the liver has been the means of relief to many of Dr. Edwards' regular patients as well as to thousands of others who have suffered and were afraid of calomel.

There is no necessity when you take Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets, by following them up with nasty, sickening, griping salts, or castor oil, as you do after taking calomel. Try them. 10c and 25c per box. The Olive Tablet Company, Columbus, Ohio.

OBITUARY.

Edward E. Crain.

Edward Everett Crain, the second victim of the triple murder tragedy at Woodson and the second son of Bethel and Jennie Crain, of Doyle, Tennessee, was born at Spencer, Tenn., Feb. 5th 1876, and departed this life at his home near Woodson, Jan. 27th, 1914 aged 37 years, 11 months and 22 days. In his early childhood his parents removed to a farm near Doyle, Tenn., where the greater part of his life was spent among numerous relatives and friends. His school years were spent at Onward Seminary and Doyle college. He served as deputy and tax collector in White county, Tennessee. He came to Woodson in the fall of 1901, going on to Chicago, where he learned and followed the occupation of barber. He returned to Woodson in a short time and built up a good trade in the barber and mercantile business and in a short time became one of the leading coal dealers in the community.

He was also constable and notary public for a period of eight years or more. He was married to Minnie Blanche White daughter of William B. and Ella White of Woodson, Dec. 13, 1903. She departed this life March 17, 1905, leaving her husband and infant son William Bethel Crain father, mother, brother and other relatives to mourn her loss. But they believed their loss was her eternal gain. The last three years of his life have been spent farming, which occupation he enjoyed more than all others. He was known as a good business man and a hustler, and was always studying ways and means to benefit himself and family.

He became a member of the Christian church in February, 1905, and was a member of Murrayville Lodge No. 422, A. F. & A. M., also of Ridgely Encampment I. O. O. F., of Jacksonville, Ill.; Woodson Lodge No. 711 I. O. O. F. and Mutual Protective League Fraternity of Woodson. He is survived by his widow, Martha Mabel Crain, daughter of Henry and Lucy Grunder, to whom he was married December 3, 1905; two sons, William Bethel Crain and Oswald Edgar Crain; his third son, Howard Henry Crain, having passed away the same night of his death. He is also survived by his father and mother, Bethel and Jennie Crain, of Doyle, Tenn.; three brothers, A. B. Crain of Roodhouse, Ill., S. B. Crain of Cave, Tenn., J. G. Crain of Atlanta, Ga., and one sister, Mrs. Earl White of Woodson. He will be greatly missed by relatives and friends and time will never erase the shock and grief attending his untimely end.

Howard Henry Crain, the third victim of the Woodson tragedy, and son of Everett and Mabel Crain, was born December 14th, 1909, and passed from this life into the great beyond January 27th, 1914, the same night of his father's death. He was of a bright cheerful disposition and during his brief life had become endeared to many friends, both large and small. "Sunshine" as his grandma called him, will be greatly missed by all who knew him, especially by the grief stricken mother and two little brothers grandparents and other relatives and friends who still survive.

Charles Albert Ezard, son of William and Hannah Jane Ezard, was born January 15th, 1873, four miles west of Woodson. He was married to Miss Martha Spahnower February 22nd, 1902; he died at his home, one mile south of Woodson, January 27th, 1914. He leaves to mourn his loss his wife and three children, namely: Hazel Agnes, 11; Harry Orville, 7; Russell Harold, 5 weeks old; his aged mother, Mrs. William Ezard of Murrayville, and two sisters, Mrs. Charles E. Butler of Woodson, and Mrs. T. N. Bush of Murrayville. His father and four brothers, John Andrew, William Henry, James Wesley and George, preceded him in death. George died in infancy.

He was converted at the union revival held by Evangelist E. P. Loose in Woodson in the year 1905, and united with the Christian church.

None Half So Good as Chamberlain's

"I have tried a number of cough medicines for the children but never found any half so good as Chamberlain's Cough Remedy," writes Mrs. Alex Johnson, New Haven, Ind. "It will not only check cough but will cure a cough or cold quicker than any other remedy we have used. The children like it and I know it cannot do them harm as it is free from opiates." For sale by all dealers.—Adv.

QUICK RELIEF FOR RHEUMATISM.

George W. Koon, Lawton, Mich., says: "Dr. Detchon's Relief for Rheumatism has given my wife wonderful benefit for rheumatism. She could not lift hand or foot, had to be lifted for two months. She began the use of the remedy and improved rapidly. On Monday she could not move and on Wednesday she got up, dressed herself and walked out for breakfast." Sold by J. P. Elliott, drugist.—Adv.

NICHOLS PARK IMPROVEMENT.

The Nichols Park commission are making arrangements to put the grounds in the best shape possible for the coming season. It was the intention to move the band stand to the north side of the lake between the pavilion and the water as the present location has hardly proven satisfactory. Had the ground remained frozen there would have been little trouble, but should there be a thaw, the task will be more difficult. During the cold weather the monkeys have been in fine shape, brisk and lively right along.

It is the intention to arrange a balustrade along the abutments of the bridge as soon as possible; also to clean and paint the buildings as far as the means at hand will admit.

HOT TEA BREAKS

A COLD—TRY THIS

Get a small package of Hamburg Bread Tea, or as the German folks call it, "Hamburger Brust Tea," at any pharmacy. Take a tablespoonful of the tea, put a cup of boiling water upon it, pour through a sieve and drink a teacup full at any time. It is the most effective way to break a cold and cure grip, as it opens the pores relieving congestion. Also loosens the bowels, thus breaking a cold at once.

It is inexpensive and entirely vegetable, therefore harmless.—Adv.

JOHN W. MERRIGAN WAS ELECTED TREASURER.

Returns From Convention of Ice Cream Manufacturers.

J. W. Merrigan was elected treasurer of the Illinois Ice Cream Manufacturers at the state meeting concluded in Decatur Tuesday. The ice cream men lost out on the change in express rates, and will seek relief in Washington. The transportation of ice cream is short-haul business and under the present block and sub-block system the dealers receive a less advantageous rate than before the recent cut. The state public utilities commission recognizes the justice of their complaint and has advised them to appeal directly to the inter-state commerce commission which they will do. Reports read the people of America consumed over 200,000,000 gallons of ice cream last year.

The officers elected follow:
President—F. W. Holmes, Manteno.
Vice President—W. A. Schwindler, Quincy.
Treasurer—John W. Merrigan, Jacksonville.
Secretary—N. Loewenstein, Chicago.
Directors—C. J. Stewart, Decatur, and B. B. Roswell, Peoria.

Following the marriage a wedding collation was served at the home of the bride's sister, Mrs. James Begnal, northwest of Murrayville, only immediate relatives attending.

Nuptial high mass was solemnized by Rev. Father P. R. McCauley. The wedding march from Lohengrin was played by Miss Alma Flynn, as the bridal party took their places at the bridal altar. "THE GIRL OF MY DREAMS."
We hear about the necessity of going abroad for the material for plays, but right here in America we have an abundance of stuff for good plays, as is demonstrated by at least one of our authors, Wilbur D. Nesbit, who has been a writer on the Chicago Evening Post for a great length of time. Mr. Nesbit, in conjunction with Otto Bauerbach and Karl Hoesching has written a truly American musical play, "The Girl of My Dreams," which will be seen at the Grand Opera House Thursday Feb. 26th.

In this play, the American of years ago and our very up-to-date Americans are brought together in the leading characters, which are a demure little Quakeress (Countess Olga von Hatzfeldt) and a bachelor, who is motor enthusiast (impersonated by Roy Purviance).

In America, life is filled with sweet, innocent and romantic incidents, and it is good to know that we have some authors who do not find it necessary to go out of their own country for material.
